White Mesa Ute Community
Spiritual Walk and Protest against the Energy Fuels Uranium Mill!

- Energy Fuels' uranium mill is located next to the White Mesa Ute Community located between Blanding and Bluff, Utah
- The Ute Mountain Ute Tribe and community members are concerned about radioactive emissions into the land, air, and groundwater
- The mill was built on top of hundreds of ancient culturally significant sites including burials and ceremonial structures
- The uranium mill is turning into an international radioactive waste disposal facility, without proper environmental and public review
- The Trump administration & State of Utah want to fast track approval of a new uranium mine in San Juan County, adding to the radioactive threat.
